Duties

The successful candidate will teach undergraduate, upper-level maritime policy courses and, occasionally, introductory government / political science courses. The ideal candidate will be able to teach one or more of the following topic areas: maritime policy and strategy; ocean and arctic policy; Asia-Pacific studies or similar regional specialization with a maritime focus; coastal governance; marine resource management; marine safety; port security; maritime transportation, commerce, and industry. The anticipated teaching load for this position will be 9-12 credit hours (of one or more 3-credit courses) per semester.

Other possible responsibilities include facilitation of learning enrichment opportunities for cadets via speakers, travel, and contacts; academic advising; work as a faculty advisor to student research projects, clubs, and other co-curricular activities; individual research and scholarship; institutional, divisional, and departmental service; and other duties as assigned. In addition, the successful candidate will work collaboratively with the Academy's Center for Arctic Study and Policy. Such efforts may include, but need not be limited to, work on Arctic issues.

Major duties also include participation in leadership and professional development activities with students outside of class and service to the Academy.

Qualifications and Evaluations

Education:

FOREIGN EDUCATION: Education completed in foreign colleges or universities may be used to meet the requirements. You must show proof the education credentials have been deemed to be at least equivalent to that gained in a conventional U.S. education program. It is your responsibility to provide such evidence when applying. For further information on the evaluation of foreign education, refer to the U.S. Department of Education's web site at click here

When including education on your resume, report only attendance and/or degrees from schools accredited by accrediting institutions recognized by the U.S. Department of Education.

Requirements:

All qualification requirements must be met by the closing date of the announcement.

Evaluations:

All application material must be submitted by the closing date.

Qualifications:

Candidates must possess either (1) a Doctor of Philosophy or ABD in Political Science, Public Policy, Marine Affairs, or other closely related field;
OR (2) a Juris Doctor degree.

Additionally, candidates must have either (1) experience with independent teaching of Political Science, Public Policy, Marine Affairs or other maritime-themed courses at the college level; OR (2) experience in the practice of maritime law and teaching maritime themed courses.

Interpersonal, teaching, and communications skills are essential.

Successful candidates will also have experience mentoring diverse student populations, and/or experience promoting diversity initiatives - including efforts at creating communities of inclusion - is highly desirable. The preferred candidate will have a publication and teaching record in Maritime Policy and Governance. A demonstrated recording of mentoring student projects and developing courses and curricula is a plus.

Candidates must possess either (1) a Doctor of Philosophy or ABD in Political Science, Public Policy, Marine Affairs, or other closely related field; OR (2) a Juris Doctor degree.

Doctoral candidates are eligible to apply, but evidence shall be provided that doctoral candidates are certain to obtain the Ph.D. prior to the position start date.

This position will be filled as a tenure-track position

More than 1 selection may be made from this announcement if additional identical vacancies in the same title, series, grade, and unit occur within 90 days from the date the certificate was issued.

This is a time-limited appointment not to exceed three years, the first year of which may be a trial period. A second time-limited appointment not to exceed an additional four years may be made without re-advertising. If requested by you before the end of the sixth year of employment and approved by the Superintendent for academic tenure prior to the end of the seventh year of employment, you will be converted non-competitively to a permanent excepted appointment. Otherwise, termination of the time limited appointment will be effected.

The advertised salary range is the expected range for offers pursuant to this Vacancy Announcement. However, the Coast Guard reserves the right to offer within the entire range for excepted service faculty positions ($53,813 - $172,100) and at any academic rank should the selectee warrant special consideration.

Applicants will be required to complete questions contained on the Declaration for Federal Employment \(OF-306\) at the time a tentative job offer is made. At the time of appointment, selectees will be required to update the OF-306. Certain responses on the form could pose a problem with suitability for employment determinations.

If you are selected for this position, you will be subject to a determination of your suitability for Federal employment. All selectees are subject to an appropriate investigation as a condition of placement into this position. Certain investigation levels may automatically require a credit check after initial job qualifications have been met. For those positions that do not automatically require a credit check, it may later be required if the initial investigation surfaces a potential issue. Visit: OPM Mythbuster
